Kananaskis Village Centre is part of Alberta Parks' popular Evan-Thomas Provincial Recreation Area. The building is a mixed-use facility housing a post office, retail space, lounge, and administration office. The building is a year-round destination for hikers, campers, and other visitors to the Kananaskis area.

The Centre underwent major renovations to upgrade the interior and exterior of the building. We installed new public washroom facilities, a new hydronic heating system with radiant panels, a force flow heater, and provided an upgrade to the Centre's mechanical systems, including a retrofit to the Centre's mechanical controls.

Located an hour-and-a-half from the city of Calgary, the project demanded precise planning and coordination to stay on schedule and within budget. During the project, the Centre remained open to the public so careful consideration was given to public safety and service availability.
